Popular Junior Elected Freshman Commissioner

Marguerite Jennings To Fill Vacant Y. W. C. A. Post

Marguerite Jennings, junior, was elected the new Freshman Commissioner of the Y. W. C. A. by the upperclassmen last Tuesday night. Her duty is to guide the Freshman Commission, the election of which will be held either the last of October or the first of November.

"I hope the Freshman Class will give serious consideration to the girls they elect to the Freshman Commission," Marguerite appealed. The work of the commission includes the training of girls for Cabinet work, aiding in Y. W. projects, sponsoring the Doll Show, taking part in community welfare work, conducting devotionals in the Freshman dormitory, and helping with the class benefit in the spring.

In her Freshman year, Marguerite served as secretary of the Freshman Commission and was chairman of the Church Relations Committee on the Y. W. C. A. Cabinet. This year she was previously elected vice-president of the Y. W. C. A., but her new position automatically cancels her obligation to this office, leaving a vacancy.

Marguerite was one of four girls elected by the Cabinet to go to Blue Ridge last summer to the joint conference of the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. chapters from all southern colleges. She is a member of the International Relations Club, a third degree member of Alpha Phi Sigma, and a reporter on the BULLET staff.

Commercial Club To Feature Style Show

A short time ago, the president of the Commercial Club, Elizabeth Hall, and the secretary, Virginia Ramsey, went to Washington for the special purposes of arranging lectures on beauty, styles, personality, etc. to be given at the club meetings throughout this school year. It has been definitely arranged for a style lecture to be given by a representative of the Elizabeth Arden Shop at the November meeting. Arrangements for other such interesting programs have been made.

At the first meeting of the organization this school year, Dr. Dodd, head of the Commercial Department and club sponsor, gave a talk in which he spoke about the importance of college life in general. Also, three new faculty members of the commercial department, Mr. Roach, Dr. Hanna, and Mr. Pitts, were extended a welcome at this meeting.

For those commercial students who would like to become members of this club, the procedure is as follows. Those who make an average of "C" during the first six weeks of school work will be considered and invitations sent out accordingly. The meetings are to be held the first Thursday of every month during which gatherings and lectures will be given. Club members are admitted to these free of charge. Other students in the school must pay a small admission fee.

New Rules For Convocation

Dr. Walter Young And Committee Compile Laws

Under the leadership of Dr. Walter J. Young, a committee has compiled a set of regulations concerning all chapels and convocations.

These new rules will go into effect immediately at the first meeting in the new administration building.

Dr. Young has asked "that emphasis be laid on these matters with the request that students during the present set-up will be faithful to their obligations." He said further, that thus far the girls have cooperated particularly fine in attendance and in attitude and that the chapel committee was duly grateful.

Below is the revised list of regulations governing attendance and announcements at Chapel and Convocations.

1. All students are required to attend chapel and convocation, whether residing in the dormitories, in rooming houses, or in their own homes. Student teachers with teaching responsibilities that conflict with attendance, dining hall assistants, and students residing at a distance from the campus should apply to the Registrar for a written excuse.

2. Students are allowed three cuts from chapel and two from convocation during each quarter. Cut blanks must be filled out in advance in the Office of the Registrar just as in the case of class cuts.

3. Attendance will be checked by members of the Student Council under supervision of designated members of the Chapel and Convocation Committees. The latter will report absences to the Registrar.

4. Students must occupy their regular assigned seats to be marked present.
5. Excuses for absence from chapel or convocation are to be made to the Registrar.

6. For each unexcused absence from convocation the student shall forfeit one cut from one class.

7. For every two unexcused absences from chapel the student shall forfeit one cut from one class.

8. Students irregular in attendance will be reported to the Dean of the College.

9. The general and departmental bulletin boards are to be utilized as much as possible for notices affecting faculty and student body. However, announcements may be made in chapel or convocation if handed in writing to the presiding officer before the program begins. Announcements should be limited to fifty words and should include the name and office of the person requesting the announcement.

Freshman Play Day Proves Successful

The Freshmen who did not come to Freshman Play Day missed a marvelous treat. Those that were there were guided by Dr. Sinclair, who in her welcome introduced the president of the A. A., Jane Adams. Jane introduced Anne Smith, the chairman of the sports committee.

The new students were divided into Indian Groups according to the colors they were given as they entered the field. The games were played in a large circle with the groups rotating around it, therefore playing a different game each time. The Mohawks and the Pawnees tied for first place in the Broken Down Car Race. In the Fan Legged Race the Mohicans and Ottos won, but the Navajors and Choctaws retaliated by winning the Three Legged Race. Many other games were played and the final group was a mass for a game of Dodge Ball.

Following the games they retired to the cabin for refreshments.

The Pop Program that night was in charge of the A. A. They put on a skit with the following cast: Mary (the mother) Kitty Roberts Daisy (the daughter) Leighton Stevens

Felix (the son) Winnie Hudson The Villian Dorothy Lewis Director Lee Wingate Keith

Also featured that night were several numbers from talented students. Bruce Spain played the piano blindfolded, Anne Wilkins skated to music, and Ruth English played the trombone accompanied by Edna Reed.

Dancing was enjoyed in the Gym after the Pop Program. The last event of the day was the swimming meet with only Freshmen participating. Edith Lester won the diving contest.

Alpha Tau Pi To Initiate Pledges

The Alpha Tau Pi, Honorary National Society for Elementary Majors, will hold a meeting Thursday, October 19, in their club room. The purpose of the meeting is the initiation of the ten new pledges, and the election of officers, for the coming year, with the exception of the President.

Included in this year's program is a plan for a large Alpha Tau Pi reunion, at which a great number of former members are expected to be present.

Under construction in the Alpha Tau Pi room is a map which shows the location of the members by colored pins, and gives other information concerning them.

The ten pledged for the coming year, as announced by Ann Beadles, President, are: Dorothy Day, Lorraine Dove, Frances Dugger, Madeline Triana, Mary Jean Holloway, Constance Hawthorne, Arabelle Laws, Nancy Lytton and Jane Smith.

Modern Dance Club Plans Coming Season

On Wednesday afternoon, October 4, the Modern Dance Club held its regular bi-weekly meeting in the gym, in Monroe Hall. Since this was the appointed time for club try-outs, many new eager and enthusiastic faces appeared on the scene. After the meeting was called to order by Margaret Morrison, the president, Miss Stewart, the club sponsor and director, appointed judges for the try-outs. Margaret Morrison, Kay Rucker, and Kitty Roberts watched the newcomers as they skillfully copied the exercises of the old members. This year all members chosen are conditional and will be until the end of six weeks. The additions to the club include Myran Russell, Frances Ingila, Phyllida Bier, Mary Pappandreu, Meggy Moran, Jean Delaney, Frances Wills, and Alice Barton. These and the old members, Kay Rucker, Kitty Roberts, Martha Murray, Nan Thompson, Nancy Walker, Virginia Bright, Leo Lau, Becky Biddlestone, Annette Hodnett, Nann Sharp, Margaret Morrison, Esther Kane, Leo Weiss, Frances Alley, and Jane Adams, are energetically working and planning for the coming season. They plan to present a Christmas program in connection with the Glee Club, after which will follow a spring presentation. Much hard work is to be spent on their yearly project. May Day, which will be carried out in a Chinese theme. The girls are hoping that they will receive quarter credits for their efforts. This college is trying to build up the arts and stress dance more than ever. The Modern Dance Club is trying to develop this dance of college life; but in the meanwhile, they expect to enjoy themselves at a taffy pull given by Miss Stewart in her home Friday night!

Seniors Elect Years Officers

At a meeting of the Senior class held Wednesday night in Westmoreland hall, Martha Lee Bennett, Kathryn Wygal, and Frances Alley were elected vice-president, secretary, and treasurer respectively for the 1939-1940 session. The meeting was presided over by Ruth Cheshire, president of the class.

Miss Bennett, who defeated Miss Virginia Ramsey by a close margin, is from Tomshe, Virginia. In addition to her newly acquired position, she is a member of the English club, Y. W. C. A., and secretary of the German club.

Miss Wygal, who is from Bristol, Virginia, is a member of the Y. W. C. A., I. R. C., and is secretary of Alpha Phi Sigma.

Miss Alley, a Richmond girl, belongs to the Dance Club and the Riding club, and is chairman of the Chapel Program Committee for Y. W. C. A.

Mary Washington College was honored yesterday, Thursday when Governor James H. Price and his Budget Committee visited the campus to see whether or not a new library building was needed by the school.

"We are enjoying this trip to Mary Washington and are delighted to see the fine enrollment here," said the Governor as he was being photographed from all angles.

He and the committee, consisting of seven others, started from President Morgan L. Combs' office on a tour of the grounds and buildings.

After going through Monroe Hall they entered Virginia and amazement shown on their faces as they viewed the crowded condition of our library. Remarks of "I've never seen anything like it," were overheard as they progressed to the front entrance, where they were besieged by girls with cameras.

The Budget Committee is made up of members of the House of Representatives and the Senate and are as follows: Senator W. A. Garrett, Berkeley D. Adams, of the General Assembly; Mr. Bradford, former director of the committee, now chairman of Accounts and Controls; Dr. Ronald A. Egger, Director of Budget Committee; Senator William Neff, Ashton Dovel, Speaker of the House; Senator Aubrey Weaver, and W. T. Ellis, Chairman of Planning Section.

The Governor and Committee previously visited, on this trip, William and Mary College, Williamsburg; the State College for Colored, and the Negro Asylum, in Petersburg.

Dramatic Club Holds Year's First Meeting

The Dramatic Club of Mary Washington College held its first meeting Friday evening, October 6th.

It was decided that approximately fifty apprentices be taken into the club after try-outs. Those wishing to try out appeared before the club on Wednesday, October 11th, in the auditorium of Monroe Hall.

This year's officers are: Lee Wingate Keith, President; Mary Lou Wilcox, Vice-President; Kitty Roberts, Secretary; and Winnie Hudson, Business Manager. Mr. Weiss as director will be in charge of play productions.

As yet, the new play has not been decided upon—but look forward to a "killer." The male parts will probably be portrayed by members of the M. W. C. faculty. The Dramatic Staff has also been greatly enlarged with new faculty members. Y. W. is handling the business end of the play.

With the combination of new talent, faculty members and our capable officers, you can look forward to a big year of dramatics.

"The time has come" the walrus said—and the walrus had nothing on me! For the whiskered one the time had come to talk of "shoes and ships and sealing-wax, and cabbages and kings." For me, the time has come to plead a while on behalf of those of us who are fortunate enough to be able to sleep a little later than 7 A. M. in the morning. This applies only to seniors five times a week, but it includes nearly every girl on the hill on Saturday and Sunday mornings.

It's a wonderful privilege to have—this morning nap, but I must confess that certain of the chronic "sleep-throughers" dispositions are a little the worse for wear as a result of the fact that many of their schoolfates seem to think that just because they (and the lark) are up to meet the sun, so is everybody else.

You Seniors who go to breakfast, try to remember that some of your fellow classmates are still snoring peacefully—or trying to. And when Sunday morning comes, everybody who can, go to church, but remember the others around you who are trying to catch up on some very probably much needed sleep.

So we change the title of the old song slightly and beg, "Please Be Quiet and Let Us Sleep!"

what he was telling her, too.

Evelyn Williams came back last Sunday night singing "I'm So Sorry For Myself." Seems like she and the boy friend had a fuss, but Wednesday she was singing, "Happy Days Are Here Again." Draw your own conclusions!!!

Have you seen that cute Randolph-Macon locket Hilda Hallows is sporting? That's right, Hilda, we gals do like Randolph-Macon, too.

Speaking of Randolph-Macon, Nan Phillips thinks it's THE place too. Nan's truckin' down there this week-end.

"Honey" Henderson and Carolyn Lawson are off for the V. P. I. Openings this week-end. My! May girls—how you do RATE!

Ruth Annels and George are still that way about each other. Love must be grand, eh Ruth!

Here's to Laura Holman, who had a birthday this past week—many, many more, Laura, and may you enjoy them all just as much.

Mary Stephens wonders why home-town girls can't leave college girls' steadies alone?

We wonder why Sooky Akers and Porter Gibson are planning such a long week-end in Newport News. Is it to get THINGS straightened out?

What town boy sent the charming little ditty in a box of candy to Becky Biddlestone Sunday?

Girls, did you see that string of men that Hannah Grashl had Sunday? Was George along, Hannah?

We have heard that a certain Norfolk boy is having trouble deciding between the room mates of 314 Virginia.

Ann Abell was awfully excited in house meeting the other night. We found that Duke University had just called.

Speaking of being excited Did any of you see Lucille Dettor the other day when she was invited to Hampden-Sydney openings?

Babs McMary rates so highly that two boys drove all the way from Pittsburgh, Pa.—300 miles—just to spend a few hours with her on Sunday.

Libby Ann Herndon is hearing pretty regularly from VPI. She'll be visiting up there for the week-end soon.

Dot Knauss—voted class 'goon' at her high school—is living up to her reputation. The shrieks from 119 are mostly Dot's fault—She really is a circus.

People call Mary Joslin 'Ferdinand' Could it be that she looks like him or does she shot the bull too much.

Willard Hall no longer looks like a dormitory but more like a gym. Everybody is trying to lose the many pounds that they gained since they have been here.

Mildred Garner can keep things plenty long. She kept a can of shrimp for over a week—and now you should smell the room—Phew! Essie Kadish received a metal from a boy in Providence. But really it is a toss up between him and one from New York. What a life!

It is getting to be a habit for somebody in each room to have a pie bed nearly every night. Maybe soon the novelty will wear off—We hope.

Georgia Cristi wanted to leave the infirmary and the doctor wouldn't let her. What was your hurry, Georgia—won't they take your mail to you?

These people that don't get their mail like they should—Kay Dora turns her boy friend's picture to the wall when she doesn't get a letter from him—as do many others around here.

Jerry Kikes has a date to Annapolis and the Charlottesville VPI dance. How is she doing?

Anything to be different—the freshman—or at least one freshman has started to smoke a pipe. We pity her poor room mates.

Elizabeth Winfree really has a good looking boy friend—and he is a preacher—but oh, boy!

Is Connie Pessey worried! She has two boys coming to see her at the same time this week-end. What are you going to do about it Connie?

Who was the girl that got the package and unwrapped it in Mr. Hamlet's math class and found it to be "feminine dainties"?

Shirley Jacobs is in a spot too. She has a date this week-end with a boy from Williams College and is invited to Annapolis too—Some fun!

What sassy little redhead is engaged to one person but all in all really loves his best friend. I would hate to be in her shoes!

What tall bashful freshman has a crush on Mary Estes.

Addie Lee Barrett is off to her home in Norfolk this week-end. She's all fixed up to go to a dance and of course, she has a date with HIM.

Vivian Ale just can't stand it any longer either—so she's going to spend the week-end at her home. Have a good time — Vivian.

Have you noticed Janet Matthews lately? Janet thinks there is no place like home. (Confidentially, Janet, is it the U. of Va?)

Dora Belle Forrest is certainly a cute girl. Did you see her Sunday afternoon walking around the campus with her date, P. S. Dora Belle was mighty interested in What girl on the third floor of Mary Ball receives poetry through the mail from a certain R. M. gentleman? Is it April? Is it April? No-No-No! It is May? No-No-No! Then it must be June!

Did you see Amine Jones last Friday night? And it was all for that Roanoke College male.

We just know that Lois Brille sprained her ankle accidentally on purpose so that handsome Washington and Lee fellow could carry her to her room. Mary Mundy watched her step though with her W. & L. man!

Did you hear about that Freshman from Georgia who makes a practice of swallowing other people's chewing gum?

Have you noticed the similarity between the bracelet and the fraternity pin that our business manager is sporting? Must be they were picked out by the same Bob.

Marian Jones and Jane Haddox have started their week-end "leaves" to ye Olde Capitol again.

It's started already—Roy and Margie, our fair-haired couple, strolling about the campus.

Tripping off to the V. P. I. openings this week-end are Henry Henderson and Jean Downer and Nancy Brooker.

SOCIETY

Football games are still taking girls away for the week-end. Mary Lou Wilcox is going to the Navy-Dartmouth game, Mary Estes to Washington to see Dick to his part against American University and of course, Sophia Eisenman is going to Charlottesville again. And somebody told us that Maxine Morea is going to Washington to see the University of Detroit play against the Catholic University. She is going to meet her Uncle there who is manager of the Detroit team.

Ned White, the true love of Eleanor Small, from North Carolina, is going to be a visitor here this week-end.

Home, as usual, is calling a lot of girls this week-end; namely, Ella Harrison, Nan Thompson, Jean McCaffrey, Mildred Flemming, and Vivian Dixon.

Evelyn Lasley, a former student, from Charlottesville, and who transferred to Harrisonburg this year, is going to visit Rosalie Johnson this week-end.

Charlottesville is calling another Westmorelander this week-end—Jane Adams just has to go to see her true love.

From the way it looks now, wedding bells aren't so far off, for Gus and Winnie plan to be together this week-end again, for Winnie is going to Richmond just to see him.

And speaking of weddings, Nita Fletcher is going to Orange, Va., this Saturday to see Miss Florence Hill Tindler of Fredericksburg and Mr. Lewis Owen married. Here's hoping you catch the bride's bouquet, Nita.

Dr. Shankle Host To Department

Dr. George E. Shankle, head of the English department of Mary Washington College, entertained the professors in his department with a formal dinner given in the club room of the Palms, Thursday evening at 6:30.

The purpose of this affair is a get together good-will meeting which Dr. Shankle wishes to make an annual event.

"Any group working together needs to know each other socially and to meet each other socially outside of the regular work professionally," stated Dr. Shankle.

Snow White and The Seven Dwarf theme was carried out in favors, because of its literary standing today.

Dr. Shankle rendered several selections on the piano.

INTERESTING PERSONALITIES

This week our spotlight turns to Miss Ann Carolyn Kelley. No doubt many of you have already met this little chatterbox who is very proud of the fact that she is from the Eastern Shore of Virginia. She is very easy to make friends with and anyone who has talked with her for any length of time will always remember that pleasing look which makes her face beam when she speaks of her home town.

In high school Ann was a member of the Dramatic Club, the Lee Literary Society, the Glee Club, and the 4-H Club. She was also secretary of the 4-H Club and secretary and treasurer of the Glee Club. She played the leading role in her senior class play which was "Bound to Mary." Her high school days seem to hold many pleasant memories.

Ann says that she thinks college life is grand especially when it can be spent at Mary Washington. She also enjoys studying and is very interested in the course she is taking. Her majors are all sciences which she hopes will give her a cultural background for her nursing career. She enjoys many sports including swimming and tennis and her favorite hobbies are reading and dancing.

Confidentially, she talks in her sleep almost every night and in this way provides entertainment for her roommates.

Ann is known to be the sincere type of person that will prove to be a true friend always.

The German Club Begins Year's Work

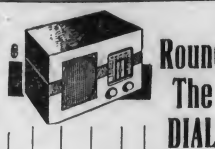

The German Club, one of the organizations on the hill endeavoring to create a higher social atmosphere among all the Mary Washington girls by sponsoring at least two formal dances each year, has begun its activities for the 1939-40 season.

At the first meeting held last week the executive committee was elected. This committee includes Kay Rucker, Jamie Redwood, Eloise Caverlee, the four officers of the club and the sponsor Mrs. Bushnell. During the past week they met several times to discuss plans for membership. The date for bids to be issued is indefinite and also no plans have been made concerning the first formal.

The club takes this opportunity to welcome you and express the hope that the year of social gatherings will be a successful one.

Thanksgiving Day In Virginia Will Be Observed Nov. 23

In spite of much controversy, Virginia will be one of the 22 states observing Thanksgiving Day Nov. 23, the new date proclaimed by Roosevelt. Twenty-three others will observe Turkey day Nov. 30, the traditional date, while Colorado and Texas will take advantage of the situation by ob-

Say, you sleepyheads—why not wake up to the fact that a twist of the radio dial at the sound of the breakfast bell is quite as effective as a cold shower. We all appreciate our radios (especially after that $100 fee) and here's hopin' we can help you get in on the top programs.

Fred Waring presents nightly at 7:00 o'clock a well-rounded program including his band, glee club, and his femme singers, Dana De and Patsy Garrett, a Richmond girl, are especially good. For the swing fans we recommend Tuesday nights. Bob Crosby's Bob Cats swing out, with vocal treats coming from Helen Ward, whom you'll remember as Benny Goodman's first and greatest vocalist, this time with Bob Crosby singing "Day In—Day Out." Hal Kemp also holds forth on Tuesday nights. Incidentally, did you hear Kemp's Nan Wynn sing "What's New?" If so we are sure you'll listen for her again.

Pretty of the week is Glenn Miller's "Blue Moonlight" and Artie Shaw's Tony Pastor certainly does a swell job of "Put That Down In Writing."

Dr. Hemphill Is Chapel Speaker

Dr. Hemphill, a newcomer to Mary Washington College officiating as guest speaker delivered a fine address to the upper classmen at Chapel on Tuesday.

In a direct and intensely interesting manner the new professor gave a brilliant talk on Winston Churchill's part in the present war and the past World War. He pointed out the singular significance of Churchill's being the only great war leader of the last war who was again figuring so prominently in this one.

Churchill's gracious background and his many responsible positions lead to his present position as head of the British Admiralty. This great leader's vigorous policies in the past brought success to England's Navy and under his guidance she may rest assured that the Naval end of her participation in this war will be as skillfully and wisely maneuvered as is humanly possible.

SPORTS BRIEFS

With Lou Nova and Bob Pastor eliminated, it is reported that Tony Galento will again fight Joe Louis for the heavyweight championship next June, probably in Chicago.

Freshman Tells Of German Trip

Due to the many interesting experiences encountered while visiting in Berlin, Germany, Miss Phyllis Blair, a freshman, of Warren, Ohio, revealed recently that she is planning to enter the University of Berlin, to major in Chemistry, after she has completed her course of studies here.

"Conditions in Germany were very wonderful," she explained, "and the people did seem very happy." "They realize all that Hitler has done for Germany as a country."

Miss Blair also said that a large majority of what the press printed about religious persecutions and the horrors of the concentration camps were extremely exaggerated. "We had an occasion to visit the concentration camps, and they weren't nearly as horrible as the newspapers played them up to," she explained further. "I saw no actual riot condemning any religion during my stay in that country."

Her visit to Germany was made possible by taking a special exam, which enabled her and 43 college students to go to Germany to study conditions there. Each student stayed at a different private home. "It was therefore very easy to learn the German language," she stated. "In fact, all we spoke was German."

"I saw Hitler several times, but once I saw him without bodyguard, entering the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier. It surprised me very much," she said.

The freshman said it was very hard to get accustomed to the difference between the German foods and the American foods. She also remarked about the small portion of food allowed to each family.

"Germany as a country is very clean; as I travelled through many of the large cities, I noticed the sanitary conditions," concluded Phyllis.

Miss Blair spent the summer of 1938 in Germany.

SNAPPY STUFF

Charging that his wife took his clothes while he was bathing and drove off with them to keep him from going to a lodge meeting, David Simmons of Los Angeles, filed suit for a divorce.

William Hajek of Seattle has a repertoire of 7,800 piano compositions, and can play for 48 hours at a stretch without repeating a single number.

Callin' Em Right Or Wrong

So far 1939 has proved to be one of the best football seasons ever—especially for Virginia teams. Tomorrow these teams will face some of the toughest tests and should prove exciting with so many beautifully—matches, delicately balanced eleven clashes on the gridirons. With lopsided scores becoming more even, games will be rough and tense.

Duke faces its toughest fight of the year with Pitt Saturday. We'll give Duke the slight edge over Pitt. (Maybe it's because it's closer home.)

Another "toughest fight" to be staged tomorrow will be the University of Richmond-Rutgers game, when the Spiders face the Scarlet. Naturally, because of the keen interest of M. W. C. girls in U. of R. students, we'll be rooting for the Spiders, but we're afraid we'll have to keep our fingers crossed.

In the V. M. I.-Vanderbilt clash we'll take V. M. I., since Captain Paul Shu and Son Shelby will be back in the game.

Virginia over Maryland after their good showing at Annapolis last week.

V. P. I. over William and Mary although Big Chief Voyles is doing a wonderful job of putting the Indians on the war path.

Wake Forest over N. C. State. Washington and Lee should rule a slight favorite over Southwestern.

North Carolina over New York U. (There are a lot of yankee girls up here that might not agree with us).

To the "chosen few" who are lucky enough to be able to attend any of these games—here's hoping you have a huge time—come back and give us all the dope.

Miss Mildred Steward, sponsor of the Modern Dance Club, has graciously invited all the members to her apartment on Friday evening, October 13, for a candy-pull. This will be the club's first monthly social meeting, and an opportunity for wider social contacts. Nan Sharp and Kitty Roberts will have charge of the entertainment.

Miss Florence Horsbrugh, member of the British parliament, recently was appointed parliamentary secretary to the minister of health.

SPORT NEWS

Vivian Dixon, Chairman of Hockey, has just announced the following schedule:

Thursday, Oct. 19—Senior vs. Sophomore.
Tuesday, Oct. 24—Junior vs. Sophomore.
Thursday, Oct. 26—Senior vs. Freshmen.
Tuesday, Oct. 31—Senior vs. Junior.
Tuesday, Nov. 7—Sophomore vs. Freshmen.
Thursday, Nov. 9—Junior vs. Freshmen.
Tuesday, Nov. 14—Devil vs. Goat.

Each class has recently elected its new manager for this season. These election returns seem to have Charlotte Morgan for the Senior, Mary Miller Crigler, Junior; Ann Pekich, Sophomore, and Irene Altieri for the Freshmen.

Girls if you are interested in playing hockey, come on out and enjoy active participation in these games, if not, then a sure thing is that you are interested in seeing your class win. So lend your support by coming to all games.

Swimming Club
Begins Activities

The Swimming Club of Mary Washington College entered the new year enthusiastically with its first meeting last Monday, October 9.

Election returns proved Barbara Gorges secretary-treasurer and Gwen Dawson, publicity chairman. The members met Thursday, October 12, and Thursday, October 19, as tryout dates for additional members into the club.

All students who are interested in swimming will meet in the Pool at 7:00 o'clock on October 19th and 21st.

Senior Life Savers are automatically entitled to membership. Miss Mildred Spiesman and all old club members will act as judges of the participants.

Watch the BULLET for announcement of the initiation of new members.

This year the club will meet at least once a month. Later in the year a swimming party will be given.

From 4:45 o'clock P. M. to 5:20 Daily.

From 7:30 o'clock P. M. to 8:30 Saturday.

From 4:00 o'clock P. M. to 5:00 Sunday.

Lula Bray, Chairman of Hiking urges each and everyone of you to join her each Saturday afternoon at 2:00 P. M. at Flagstone Walk for a most pleasant and beneficial hour's hike.

You'll have an opportunity to secure 10 points toward active membership into the Athletic Association of the College, and also you will visit some very beautiful places.

So come on out! Take a Hike! See our country!

GOLD FROM THE SEA

River beds have long been an important source of the world's gold supply. In order to recover the gold that has been washed out to sea through river mouths, a special deep sea dredge has been designed for "mining" this gold at ocean depths as great as 1,000 feet. Working parts of the dredge bucket are made of chromium-nickel alloy steels in order to withstand the tremendous water pressure involved in this unique operation.

I. R. C. Holds

First Meeting

Last Tuesday the International Relations club held their first meeting at which they discussed the addition of new members. It was decided that these members would be selected at a special meeting this Friday. To be active in this organization one must either major or minor in social sciences and have a B average. It is for this reason that Freshmen are not accepted the first quarter.

The club's activities include talks by guest speakers, the direction of the chapel program on Armistice Day and having their various members speak at town organizations. The bulletin board outside the post-office on which current news events are posted is also under the management of the I. R. C.

Plans are being made to hold the state conference here at Mary Washington. However, nothing definite has been decided.

President—Raynell Goodman.
Vice-President—Hilda Clarke.
Secretary—Eunice Martin.
Treasurer—Margaret Ramsey.
Reporter—Anne Smart.

The I. R. C. is sponsored by the Carnegie Endowment for the purpose of "promoting the study and discussion of world affairs from an objective and unprejudiced point of view."

Y. W. News

The membership campaign for the Y. W. C. A. has been conducted this week. Sunday night at 6:45 the Recognition Service will take place in the auditorium, at which time all members should be present to be recognized as belonging to the association, according to Mary Estes, president of the Y. W. C. A.

Virginia Ramsey, chairman of the Library Committee, asks that upperclassmen remember Miss Grace Taylor and her Book Club.

"It's going to be revised by the Y. W., and will be bigger and better this year," she asserted.

Y. W. C. A. activities include the sale of candy in the dormitories and vespers every evening at 6:30. The chapel service for Freshmen held today was sponsored by the Y. W. C. A.

Home Ec. Club

On October 10, at six o'clock the Home Economics Club entertained the Freshmen Majors with a spaghetti dinner in the Town Girls room. The guests were met at the door and presented with a favor by the officers of the club. The unique table decorations portraying the autumn colors added to the occasion.

The first meeting of the club will be held October 19. This is to be an open meeting to all Home Economics Majors desiring to join the club. Especially invited are the Freshmen and transfer majors.

By clinching the American League pennant 15 days before the end of the season, the New York Yankees tied the major league record of four flags in succession, set by the New York Giants of the Nationals, 1921 to 1924, inclusive.

Feature Of WFVA

Three talented voices, a popular hit tune, and a radio audition have brought fame to M. W. C. Betty Anthony, Betty Biddlestone, and Betty Spencer, all sophomores in Virginia Hall, have won a place for themselves on the program schedule of Station W F V A, in Fredericksburg.

Betty, Betty, and Betty will cobine their talents twice a week at midday for thirty minutes, and will be known to the radio audience as "The Three Bets."

When asked how their "careers" started, Betty Spencer replied, "One day we were together and started harmonizing 'Jumpin' Jive'. We had so much fun doing that, we decided to try other pieces. Mr. Weiss was in the gym one day when we were practicing and suggested we get a radio audition."

Betty Anthony, who plays the piano, exclaimed, "When he said that W F V A could use us on a radio program, I was too excited to believe it was true!"

Do they want to continue their try Anthony does, but Betty Spensing careers after college? Better has artist ambitions. As for Becky Biddlestone, she would like to become an actress and has already taken part in a dramatic serial over W F V A.

Joint Council

Addresses Freshmen

Convocation, held for the Freshmen on Wednesday night, was under the auspices of Joint Council. Each member delivered a brief message, and it is believed that this program will promote a sense of better understanding between the girls and the governing group.

Leighton Stevens, student body president, Jeanette Cooper, vice-president, Juanita Lassiter, secretary, and Peggy Snow, treasurer, are the student members of the organization; Mrs. Mooney, Mr. Darter, and Dr. Cook constitute the group of faculty members.

Subjects discussed at the meeting are "The Purpose of Student Government," "Cooperation of Freshmen with Upperclassmen," "Honor," "Essentials for Attitude of Students," "Rules and Regulations," and "What Council Can Do to Help Freshmen."

Officers of Kansas City, Mo., received this wire from a woman in Wichita: "I left an electric cooker going in my home. Please have someone turn off electricity under beans. Police can have beans."

Mrs. Abigail Frances Chilton of New York City, with the help of 38 girls, runs the quotation department of the New York Curb Exchange.

To You

Because of more stress than usual this year on the ideal campus wardrobe—no college girl needs to be informed of what the well-dressed campus miss is wearing.

Oh! yes—as usual—skirts and sweaters are the most popular fashion with "match-mates" heading the list. Most of our co-eds have added matching socks and hair ribbons and they're most attractive indeed.

Skipping the clothes topic itself for the present, let's see what actually makes every girl always appear her loveliest. All right! Maybe you've already guessed it—yes, it is PERSONALITY. Every girl can express her own individual self in her manner of dress.

Can't you always pick out a major in athletics? Why of course—she leans toward skirts with "open at the throat" collars, strictly tailored dresses, mannish do-dads in leather belts et cetera. A young lady who expresses more femininity may be a Home Ec. major with "fashions" as her goal. She wears perhaps a few frills, very soft sweaters, dainty blouses, pearls and such. The commercial minded petite fille is perhaps in a class between these two. You may disagree with the foregoing at present, but later its verity will be more evident.

'Tis true that many girls today use all three of these types of dress. Well all right—they're only expressing their personality in their different moods at different times.

Don't you think that you too can express your very own self by a your own personality in choosing your clothes? Why not give it a try—it may turn out to be oddies of fun!

Well—there's to YOU!

"Empty Saddles"

My head hung over the side of the bed, and I stared at a pair of shoes. Their common appearance was nothing to provoke a stare. Almost an essential part of campus wardrobes, they might be seen dangling in rows from soda fountain stools or crossed in solemn lines under chapel benches. Being an exact reproduction of hundreds of brown and white shoes, they were yet a little different from the average saddle oxford—they had turned only slightly grey. Their appearance showed that once or twice during their restless past, they had experienced the touch of shoe polish. In contrast, the shoes that rested at night under the bed opposite were a comfortable and unhealthy black.

Their white and chestnut brown leathers were set off by the bright green socks that spilled over onto the floor. From hours of wear the toes had curled at the end making the shoes a pair of rockers. Heavy crepe composed the thick cushioned soles. The heels in back dipped slightly on the outside, and the back strip of brown leather was scarred and had lost much of its dye from being scraped on deck legs. The white shoe laced drooped lax and limp. Smudges of grime recounted scraping contacts with earthy objects. Dried, muddy blotches were suggestive of recent rainy walks.

Tonight these shoes may be found by any bed on the hill. Their passage over the campus walks is so general and regular that Mr. and Mrs. Earthworm would turn and look a second time if a different kind of she planted itself in their path.
